

CHINESE LANDING PAGE PACKAGE

Introduction:

With over 160 million web users today, China is poised to play an increasingly important role in the internet industry worldwide. For internet marketers, it is difficult to ignore this huge market although the language barrier and other constraints make it uneasy to explore the opportunities it may present.

Our Chinese landing page package consists in the manual creation and optimization on a single page based on your existing English website for the Chinese users. The first step is the general introduction of your company profile, product/service line and contact information in Chinese language. The newly created page will then be properly optimized for the Chinese search engines (on-site optimization). Finally, we will work on the link popularity of your site and submit it to major Chinese search engines and directories to ensure adequate visibility. The complete work will be done within a 7-day period.

Not only that the creation of a Chinese landing page will bring additional traffic to your site from Baidu and other major search engines, but it can serve as testing ground before further expansion of your products and services offerings to the Chinese market.

Options such as translation of more contents and pages of your website, hosting of your Chinese version on servers located in China, keyword research, keyword selection and set up of a pay per click campaign in Chinese etc. are available at an additional cost. Make sure to contact us at info@seo4china.com for details.

What will we do?:

- 2- -On-site optimization: title, keywords and description meta tags optimization, sitemaps generation, HTML code validation etc.
